Exam Process and Proctored Exams

The UH Office of Distance Education provides assistance to University of Houston students enrolled in online courses who are required but unable to take exams at the main campus. The Office of Distance Education facilitates this process by acting as the intermediary between instructors, students and proctors.

Students should consult with their instructor and review the course syllabus, Blackboard announcements, and/or instructor emails to determine if face-to-face exams are required for their course.

To learn more about proctored exams and to find an exam proctor, please visit http://www.uh.edu/distance/student-resources/proctoring/.

© University of Houston Cullen College of Engineering